The image displays a piano score for the piece "Bloody Tears" from the game "Dracula II: Noroi No Fuin". The score is written for piano in 4/4 time, featuring a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The notation is presented in five systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The first system begins with a treble staff containing a series of eighth notes and a bass staff with a single whole note. The second system starts at measure 3, showing a more complex melodic line in the treble and a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the bass. The third system begins at measure 6, introducing a new melodic motif in the treble and a consistent eighth-note bass line. The fourth system starts at measure 8, continuing the melodic development in the treble and the eighth-note accompaniment in the bass. The fifth system begins at measure 11, showing further melodic progression in the treble and the ongoing eighth-note bass line. The score is a faithful arrangement of the original game music.

This piano score is written for a piece in B-flat major, indicated by two flats in the key signature. The music is arranged in a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The tempo and meter are not explicitly stated, but the notation suggests a moderate, steady pace. The score is divided into six systems, each containing two staves. Measure numbers 13, 15, 18, 21, 24, and 28 are placed at the beginning of their respective systems. The melody in the treble staff is characterized by eighth-note patterns, often with beamed sixteenth notes, and includes various rests and ties. The bass staff provides a harmonic foundation with chords and moving lines, including some sixteenth-note passages. The piece concludes with a final chord in measure 28.
